

ScotsCare – The Scottish Sun Feature

Scottish Sun

November 28th 2007

Smeaton Gagging to Win

Glasgow airport hero John Smeaton is a front-runner in a contest to find Scotland's greatest TV comedy moment.

Sun columnist Smeato's hilarious "we'll set about ye" quote on the day of the terror attack has made the Top Ten list of classic sketches.

Leading the online poll launched by charity ScotsCare are Billy Connolly on Glasgow drunks singing, David Tennant and Catherine Tate's English teacher for Comic Relief and Rikki Fulton as Reverend I M Jolly.

Comedians Craig Hill, Miles Jupp and Janey Godley drew up a list of finalists.

The include the Krankies singing Starman on Crackerjack; Stanley Baxter's Parliamo, Duncan MacRae's Wee Cock Sparra and Francie & Josie doing My Grannie's at Arbroath.

An insider said; "We've been overwhelmed by the number of votes."

SMEATO GAGGING TO WIN

By GEORGINA REID, Scottish TV Editor

GLASGOW airport hero John Smeaton is a front-runner in a contest to find Scotland's greatest TV comedy moment.

Sun columnist Smeato's hilarious "we'll set about ye" quote on the day of the terror attack has made the Top Ten list of classic sketches.

Leading the online poll launched by charity ScotsCare are Billy Connolly on Glasgow drunks singing, David Tennant and Catherine Tate's English teacher for Comic Relief, and Rikki Fulton as Reverend I M Jolly.

Comedians Craig Hill, Miles Jupp and Janey Godley drew up a list of finalists.

They include The Krankies singing Starman on Crackerjack; Stanley Baxter's Parliamo, Duncan MacRae's Wee Cock Sparra and Francie &

In running... Smeato

Josie doing My Grannie's at Arbroath. An insider said: "We've been overwhelmed by the number of votes."